

USC Center for Law and Philosophy

Philosophy of Emotions Meets Philosophy of Law

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Day 1: Wednesday, May 14,
9:00 am to 2:30 pm

Session 1: 9:00 am to 10:10 am

Ana Carolina de Faria Silvestre (Coimbra), Interdisciplinarity in the Law and Emotion Movement

Session 2: 10:20 am to 11:30 am

Stephen Bero (Texas), Forgetting Rather Than Forgiving: Tort Law, Insurance, and the Meaning of Injury
Comments by Zoë Sinel (Western Ontario)

Session 3: 12:00 noon to 1:10 pm

Gustavo Beade (Universidad Austral de Chile), Emotions, Punishment and Human Rights Violations: A Defense of the "Trials from Within the Community"
Comments by Marcela Prieto Rudolphy (USC)

Session 4: 1:20 pm to 2:30 pm

Emily Kidd White (Osgoode Hall, York), Analyzing Emotions in the Philosophy of Mind in the Foundations of Liberal
Constitutional Theory
Comments by Zeb Dempsey (USC)

Day 2: Monday, May 19,
10:20 am to 2:30 pm

Session 1: 10:20 am to 11:30 am

Nick Smith (New Hampshire), Symmetry in Justifications for Punishing Remorseful and Remorseless Criminal Offenders?

Session 2: 12:00 noon to 1:10 pm

Anna Dvorishchina (LSE) and Angelo Ryu
(Oxford), Affective Alienation
Comments by Emily Kidd White (Osgoode Hall, York)

Session 3: 1:20 pm to 2:30 pm

Jorge Gaxiola Lappe (NYU), Moral Remainders and Conflicts of Legal Rights:
The Case of Defamation
Comments by Stephen Bero (Texas)

Day 3: Wednesday, May 21,
9:00 am to 2:30 pm

Session 1: 9:00 am to 10:10 am

Zoë Sinel (Western Ontario), Just Feelings: A Tort Law Theory of Emotions
Comments by Jorge Gaxiola Lappe (NYU)

Session 2: 10:10 am to 11:30 am

Zeb Dempsey (USC), How to Be Angry at Children
Comments by Elina Nerantzi (EUI)

Session 3: 12:00 noon to 1:10 pm

Elina Nerantzi (EUI). All AIs are Psychopaths? The Scope and Impact of a Popular Analogy
Comments by Nick Smith (New Hampshire)

Session 4: 1:20 pm to 2:30 pm

Jisha Menon (Stanford), Desiring Children: Vulnerability, Shame, and the Sex Offender
Comments by Oded Na'aman (The Hebrew University)