Restitution Rollout: The Restatement (Third) of Restitution and Unjust Enrichment Symposium

8:45 a.m.— 4:30 p.m. February 25, 2011

Washington and Lee University School of Law
Sydney Lewis Hall

Lexington, VA

For many lawyers, judges, law students, and professors the road to restitution led through the Great Onyx Cave by way of one of the first restitution cases they read, Lee's and Edwards's litigation about Edwards's trespass on Lee's part of the Great Onyx Cave which was 360 feet below the surface of Lee's Kentucky farm. We think that today the better road to restitution runs to the ALI's Restatement (Third) of Restitution and Unjust Enrichment.

To aid you in taking that road, the Frances Lewis Law Center, the American Law Institute, and the Washington and Lee Law Review present this Restitution Rollout program.
